Faculty . . .

To the Faculty, we, the Class of 1943, extend our most sincere and heartful thanks for the guidance and cooperation which they have given us throughout our four years. Without such help, we would not have succeeded so well.

It is with deep regret that we say, "Farewell", to our high school teachers; but we shall continue to attain the ideals which they have placed before us.

Honoring . . .

To Mr. Arnold Grover, our friend and teacher, we, the Senior Class of 1943, with sincere regard and admiration, dedicate our year book. During his twenty-eight years at Walpole High School, Mr. Grover, as Manual Arts Instructor, has adequately prepared many boys for their vocations. Throughout these years, he has planned and supervised the work of the Scenery Committee for all school plays and operettas. It is, therefore, with great pleasure that we bestow this honor upon him.

Class Officers

The Senior Officers are: George Sullivan, President; Peter Betro, Vice-President; Barbara Duquette, Treasurer, Connie Ciccolini, secretary.

These officers have dutifully fulfilled their respective capacities for the past two years. Through their guidance our class has been one of the most active and progressive groups. All the members of the class wish to extend their appreciation to these four classmates who so ably did their work.

Student Council

The Student Council is the governing body of the Walpole High School; it is composed of Homeroom Presidents and Junior and Senior Class Presidents. All matters pertaining to school activities are discussed by the Council. One activity sponsored by the members this year was the War Saving Stamp Drive. It was very successful; during Dollar Day, $500 was collected.

The Council also had charge of dancing after school on Mondays. The charge for admission was two broken records or ten cents. The proceeds have been kept in the treasury. It is hoped that delegates will be sent, in the future, to conventions.

The officers this year are: President, George Sullivan, and Secretary, Barbara Jones.

Year Book Staff

This year the Yearbook Staff has been hindered in some ways by the critical war situation. There was a priority on many of the materials necessary for use in a good yearbook. However, the committee did its best despite the handicap.

Each homeroom had a benefit; with this money and that collected from advertisements and class dues, we have published the American "Topper."

The committee deserves much credit for all the hard work which they did to produce this book successfully. We would like to express our appreciation to our teachers whose capable guidance and assistance we appreciate.

Class History

By CONNIE CICCOLINI

1939-1940

In September, 1939, approximately 145 of us students—ready, willing and able to learn—entered the Walpole High School to begin our Freshman year.

Our first school year, however, wasn't the "bed of roses" that we had expected it would be, for being the youngest members of the school, we were naturally looked down upon by the upperclassmen. Then came the customary get-acquainted dance given to us by the Seniors. At this dance we began to realize what nice people Seniors are, and after the dance many Freshmen boasted of upperclassmen chums. Thus, we became adjusted to the "class feeling" because we knew that when we were Juniors and Seniors we should feel the same as they toward underclassmen.

Before the fall was over, we held elections. As it was the first formal step our class had taken as a whole, one can easily imagine how important it was to us. The following people were elected to office:

President ..... JACK RICKER
Vice President ..... MARY CORBETT
Secretary ..... MARGUERITE CONNOLLY
Treasurer ..... BARBARA DUQUETTE

With our class well organized and supervised, we turned our efforts to extra-curricular activities, proving to our predecessors that we could "carry the ball" in these fields as they had before us. A good example of this was our enthusiasm in the magazine drive. It was a novelty to us, to be sure, but we proved that we were no slackers and that "high pressure salesmanship" were no foreign words to us.

One of our best contributions to the school was in the field of music. We had a surprisingly large number of players and singers who joined the orchestra, band, Glee Club, and dance orchestra. The Glee Club announced that it would present "Patience" as the operetta for this year and sent out a call for students to try for the cast. We were yet a bit shy, and no one ventured to try for a lead, but a few Freshmen were in the chorus.

In boys' sports we showed the great promise that we fulfilled in later years. In girls' field hockey we made a good showing by having Kay Pruell, Judy Swift, and Connie Pratt chosen for the squad—an honor very few students receive in their Freshman year. In tennis we were represented by Connie Pratt, who received her letter in this first year. Our class seemed to be athletically inclined.

We were not lacking in outstanding scholars, either. Jean Davis was given the award for being the highest-ranking Freshman student, and Connie Pratt and Jack Ricker received the greatest number of points towards membership in the Honorary Society.

The hands of time went 'round, and we closed a very successful year as Freshmen to welcome joyously the next, and to see what Fate had in store for us as Sophomores.

Sophomores! One step higher on the ladder of school life! We were now looked upon with new respect by upperclassmen and with due respect by the Freshmen. By this time most of us were acquainted to new subjects and classes.

Elections came to start this year. We had more candidates from which to choose, and we found selection difficult because all were capable. Finally, we elected:

President ..... RALPH BASSEY
Vice President ..... MARY CORBETT
Secretary ..... MARGUERITE CONNOLLY
Treasurer ..... BARBARA DUQUETTE

Our first main social event was the Sophomore Dance. It was the fifth Sophomore dance ever to be given at the Walpole High School and a success both financially and socially.

We became familiar with the "Hill Quill", our school magazine, and more of us were chosen for the staff.

Miss Wallace, Mr. Graney, and Mr. Goodrich could well be proud of the material we gave them this year. While many Senior athletes were basking in the spotlight and singing the praises of Al Bassey for his achievements in sports, Al's brother, Ralph, the Sophomore, wasn't taking any backseat, either. And "Butch" Songin was well on the way toward receiving the honors in football and other sports which he and his brothers were later to share as the "Songin Trio."

In field hockey, basketball, ice hockey, track, tennis, golf, and baseball we gained even greater recognition than in the past, having now better and more experienced players. The golf team won a northeastern golf championship, and we were proud to say that we had two Sophomore members to represent us on the team—Johnny Howard and "Red" Muldoon.

A few ambitious girls tried out for the cheerleading squad for the following year and were accepted.

Our musical achievements were as good as those of the previous year, and the Sophomore members in the cast of the Glee Club operetta, "Pinafore," helped greatly to make it a success.

The year passed by all too quickly, but we were eagerly looking forward to what we considered the two most important years of high school, one of which we were entering now—our Junior year.

1941-1942

Upperclassmen! That coveted title to which every student looks forward!

Upon entering the school in September, we students found a change in our faculty. Mr. Searles, our able "Prep" teacher, had resigned, but Miss Sline entered our school to fill the position which he held. Towards the end of the year we were sorry to lose Mr. Stoddard who left this school for another position.

In the fall the first lull in class activities was broken by class elections. Those chosen for positions were as follows:

President ..... GEORGE SULLIVAN
Vice President ..... PETER BETRO
Secretary ..... CONNIE CICCOLINI
Treasurer ..... BARBARA DUQUETTE

This year came an event which Walpole High School students hadn't had since 1917—the outbreak of a war. Our war with Japan was something we hadn't anticipated, and we found that we would have to readjust our plans taking it into consideration.

The first thing it affected was the class rings. Prices rose, and we had to get permission from the School Committee to raise the price limit from the vicinity of five dollars to that of eight. This left a precedent to be followed by other classes for, perhaps, the duration of the war.

We gave our Junior Dance, naturally, but this year we had something better to look forward to—that big event to which nothing in twelve years of school life except graduation can compare—namely, the Junior Prom. As yet, the war did not affect us as greatly as it was to in a very short while; so, all in all, we had a Prom that was equal to that of any other class.

We progressed very rapidly in sports and barely missed the title of "Undefeated" in football, meeting our Waterloo at the Stoughton game. However, mention must be made and credit given to the boys for the fine work they did this season. Everyone did his best, and our opponents had good reason to fear the triple threat of Sullivan, Songin, and Bassey. Many new athletes were discovered in all fields of sports.

In music we kept our fine record, but the orchestra had to carry on without that downbeat of Phil Johnson's drums, because of the fact that Phil left our class, but we soon discovered Walter Muldoon's drumming talent to replace Phil's. Our other class musicians remained unchanged. The operetta, "Pirates of Penzance", produced this year saw Juniors in principal roles as well as in the chorus. Mary Becker was given the feminine lead.

The Honorary Society and the Sportsmanship Brotherhood admitted many members from our class. Juniors made up one half of the "Hill Quill" staff. We seemed to be fired with journalistic ambition.

June came sooner than we expected, and we were forced to leave our Junior title for the Class of '44 to carry on.

1942-1943

While the bursting of bombs and the whining of bullets echoed the horrors of war around the world and newspaper headlines screamed the names of Wake Island, the Solomons, Gudalcanal, Egypt, and the second front, a small class in the United States, in the state of Massachusetts, in the town of Walpole, and in the Walpole High School tried to conduct "business as usual." Class elections were held, and all of the officers of last year were re-elected. As Seniors we held the majority of members in the Honorary Society, on the "Hill Quill" staff, and in music.

During this year our sports outshone all of our other extra-curricular activities, although transportation difficulties (another result of the war) had curtailed them somewhat. In ice hockey we held top honors in the Bay State League. George Sullivan, who holds three championships, was made junior shot-put champion, in the sixteen-pound weight class, of the New England Amateur Athletic Association Union. Ralph Bassey was given one of the most coveted awards in scholastic sports of the state, the trophy for being "The Most Valuable Player in the Bay State League." In all fairness to the class, we can say that although other classes have had more honors in other fields, very few can match the brilliant record we leave in sports.

Our class play, "Double or Nothing", gave to those who attended exactly what it said—double their money's worth and nothing to criticize.

We presented "Trial by Jury" and "Cox and Box" as our Glee Club operettas. Mary Becker, Tommy Noonan, Eddie Fitzgibbons, and Bob Fisher were given the leads, and a few other promising vocalists of our Freshman year blossomed forth into good singers.

We were glad to welcome Miss Burke this spring as a new member of our faculty, and we had with regret bidden goodbye to Miss Jones who left our school to be married.

All the while the days of our Senior year were passing, the rumble of the overseas war was getting nearer. Many of our boys joined the armed forces. Before the year was over, nearly all of our boys had either left, or expected to go soon (receiving a temporary deferment until graduation).

The war stamp drive which was started last year was renewed with great vigor. We girls did our share to help in the war effort by volunteering for Red Cross work, the warning center, and other such activities. The government issued a call for high school girls to get jobs in defense factories after school or to care for the children of parents who worked for defense. By June, there were very few girls in the Senior Class who did not have a part-time job.

As the end of the year rolled around, we were in doubt about having our class trip — transportation difficulties again. However, we finally managed to arrange one, and no peace-time class had ever had a better class trip.

Class night and the Senior hop are now here, and after four years of study, work, play, troubles, fun, and everything else that is a by-product of school life, we are about to graduate not only from high school but from a whole phase of our life. However, not all of the 145 students who entered the Walpole High School in 1939 will graduate with us. Four years of high school and the war have taken a toll of the class, and about 25 will not receive their diplomas tomorrow.

When they graduate, most people feel that they are saying good-bye to the best part of their youth, but we are a war-time class, and although we leave school regretfully, we have other things to do. Members of the Class of '43, there are a million fields to conquer, a war to be won. Let us go forth to do our part.

Class Song

Words By ANN FRINK Music By KARL DORRWACHTER

With all our work well done,
For us our time has come
From Walpole High to part;
We have no heavy heart.
Now as we sing this song,
Our way has seemed quite long,
With work and happy days
We venture on our ways.

To you, Dear Walpole High
This class now bids good-bye;
Our memories of you
Will help bring vict'ry through.
That peace will always live,
We'll fight, we'll work, we'll give.
And to the Blue and White.
Bring honor, justice, right.

Chorus

So as we say adieu
Walpole High; our tribute is to you,
And with our hearts held high
Forty-three now bids you its good-bye.

Athletic Council . . .

The purpose of the Athletic Council is to promote school spirit, good sportsmanship, and a keen interest in athletic activities. It is composed of members representing various sports; and its duty is to vote letters to those persons who, by the recommendation of the coaches are eligible and deserving of one. The Council has the power to make new rules concerning eligibility. Meetings are called by the President; either the School Principal or his assistant is present. All matters pertaining to sports in the high school are discussed.

The officers this year are: President, George Sullivan; Secretary, Ruth O'Brien.

Cheerleaders . . .

Not too much praise can be given to the attractive group of Cheer Leaders who, despite gas rationing and bad weather, were present at all the games ready to lead the crowds with our school cheers. The fine cheering contributed much to help the players win their games.

This year the Seniors leaving are: Harriette Kenison, Barbara Duquette, Judy Swift, Marjorie Lyon. The remaining Juniors are: Ruth Kirk, Eleanor Maguire, Marjorie Morrill and Dorothy Idman.

Football . . .

Football is the sport that starts the athletic season at Walpole High. This year it set a high standard for all that was to follow. Although we played only six games, the scores showed that Walpole had much more power and punch than its opponents.

September 26	No. Attleboro	45 - 19
October 12	Canton	60 - 0
October 24	Mansfield	41 - 0
October 31	Needham	25 - 0
November 7	Wellesley	27 - 7
November 14	Stoughton	0 - 6

The first game with North Attleboro, always a hard team to beat, found Walpole on top, 45-19. The outstanding players in that game were "Butch" Songin and Ralph Bassey in the backfield and George and "Woody" Sullivan in the front line.

In the following three games Walpole piled up a total of 126 points, while the opposition never crossed our goal line. The game with Needham was not at all like the scoreless tie of the year before. Needham didn't score this time either, but Walpole rolled along with 25 points. In the Canton game our second line did some fine work in pushing back the Canton first team. The score of the Wellesley game was 27-7. The announcer had a little trouble in keeping up with Walpole's smooth-running teamwork. Ralph Bassey was really outstanding both on defense and when carrying the ball. "Butch" Songin and Hugh McComb combined nicely for several pass completions. In the line the three Seniors, "Andy" Saboitis, "Woody" Sullivan, and George Sullivan were responsible for most of the smart tackling and blocking.

The last game of the season was the upset that spoiled the record. Although it was played on a cold, windy day, both teams were equally handicapped, Stoughton scored in the opening minutes and managed to hold its lead. We were determined to win and it was not until the final whistle that we stopped trying. To the boys and all the fans, this was a hard game to lose.

Throughout the season the whole team displayed good sportsmanship and fairness in every game.

We leave our best wishes to next year's team and hope that Mr. Graney and Mr. Goodrich will keep on producing fine teams to represent Walpole High School.

Field Hockey . . .

The fact that the United States is at war had no effect at all on the enthusiasm of the girls, as they turned out forty strong for field-hockey practice. When it was found that only two games with other schools could be arranged, due to lack of transportation facilities, inter-class games were planned, to be played towards the end of the season. With the stimulus that would have been provided by a fuller schedule, besides the team-work that comes from experience, the first team probably would have been more successful in supplying that final punch that would have brought at least two more goals and two more victories.

Captained by Kay Pruell, a first team composed entirely of Seniors, with the exception of Janet Willis, took the field against a strong Ashland team. The final score was a 1-1 tie, the only goal being scored by center forward, Connie Pratt.

Needham was the next opponet, and the score was the same. In both of these encounters, it was Ruth O'Brien's tireless efforts, despite injuries, that kept the team together.

The graduating Seniors want to remind the undergraduates to keep the spark burning on the athletic field so that when conditions again permit, Walpole will field as strong a hockey team as always. Thanks to Miss Wallace for four years of good clean fun.

Basketball . . .

The 1943 season for the boys on the basketball court was the most successful one enjoyed in recent years. The new coach, Tom Riley, can be held largely responsible. He arranged a home-and-home series of games with N. Attleboro, Norwood, and Dedham; also, a game with the alumni. These formidable opponents were downed in order unitl N. Attleboro finally beat Walpole in the return game on the home floor. This was the only defeat suffered in the regular schedule by the Walpole quintet co-captained by George Sullivan and Freddie Arthur. Arthur was high-scorer for the season, and since Sullivan and Saboitis were the only Seniors graduating from the first string, the coach has every chance to build another winning team. The best of luck to the team and its coach in 1944.

January 15	Norwood	38 - 27

Ice Hockey . . .

Hockey is the game for Walpole High School. The 1942-43 season ended with Walpole on top of the league, holding the Bay State Championship title. From the start of the season the many Walpole followers expected the Lawson Trophy would soon be back in town. They were not disappointed.

December 19	Needham	5 - 1
December 29	Waltham	5 - 0
January 1	Watertown	4 - 1
January 9	Wellesley	8 - 1
January 15	Framingham	0 - 0
January 23	Norwood	3 - 0
January 30	B. C. High	4 - 1
February 6	Waltham	4 - 0
February 12	Framingham	0 - 1
February 19	Norwood	6 - 0
March 3	Arlington	5 - 4
March 4	Medford	2 - 3

In the opening game, Needham scored first, but our first line of "Butch" and "Quey" Songin and "Len" Ceglarski soon found itself and retaliated with five goals. Ralph Bassey, Ralph Williams, and "Ed" Walukevich worked methodically in the backfield, turning away every threat.

In the second game, with Waltham, "Len" Ceglarski was the featured soloist, doing some fine stickhandling. Ralph Bassey got off one of his "Eddie Shore" rushes that accounted for our second goal. We celebrated New Year's Day by defeating Watertown 4-1. The following game with Wellesley saw Walpole holding a field day. The Songin brothers collected seven goals, with "Quey" getting five .

The scoreless tie with Framingham proved that just a little more experience and precision would be needed to win that championship. These qualities were gained in the following games. Beating Norwood 6-0 in the final game showed conclusively that Walpole was tops.

A great deal of credit must be given to the All-Stars; "Ed" Walukevich, Ralph Bassey, "Ed" Songin, Len Ceglarski, and Walter Songin for helping to defeat the best in the G. B. I. League.

Our left defenseman, Ralph Bassey, was awarded the title of the most valuable player in the league. "Ed" Songin, who broke the league scoring record, was high scorer for the season.

In conclusion, we take our hats off to a fine team and hope that next year the boys will keep the trophy, and all that goes with it, in the High School Library.

The departing Seniors are "Butch" Songin, Ralph Bassey, "Ed" Walukevich, Ralph Williams, and Fred Harrison.

Congratulations to Mr. Graney and Mr. Goodrich for coaching our Bay State Champions.

Co-Captains Ed Songin and Ralph Bassey

Baseball . . .

Spring days, with their warm sun, mean baseball for Walpole High. The athletes have put away their cleats of the gridiron and their skates of the Arena, for spikes of the diamond. Returning veterans, who will play their last games

May 1—Saturday	Framingham
May 5—Wednesday	Mansfield
May 9—Friday	Wellesley
May 12—Wednesday	Norwood
May 14—Friday	North Attleboro
May 17—Monday	Wellesley
May 21—Friday	North Attleboro
May 29—Saturday	Norwood
June 1—Tuesday	North Attleboro

for Walpole High this year, included "Ed" Walukevich, "Ed" Songin, and George Sullivan. Merely the sound of these names proves that Coach Goodrich has the core to a good team. Ceglarski, Turco, Moylan, Markevich, Meomartino, Burke, Meau, Cerbo, and Lawrence help to complete a fine roster.

Of the scheduled games that have been played thus far, Walpole has two wins: over Framingham, by a 2-1 score, and over Mansfield, by a lopsided 20-5 count. "Ed" Songin pitched a no-hitter until all but one man had been retired in the ninth inning in the Framingham game—so near to glory, and yet so far. The next man up doubled and scored on a teammates single, thus ruining a no-hitter and shutout in one fell swoop.

At the close of this, their last season of high school sports, the graduating seniors leave with the wish for just as successful a season for next year's team.

Golf . . .

The South Shore League, including Needham, Norwood, North Quincy, and Walpole drew up a schedule the month of May. When Mr. Murphy called a meeting of golf candidates in the latter part of April, the boys from last years team showed up in strength. Combined with the new aspirants, the Coach was able to put together a formidable team.

May 4	Needham	Posponed
May 6	Norwood	6 - 3
May 10	North Quincy
May 17	North Quincy
May 18	Needham
May 25	Norwood
May 27	Needham

The first scheduled game, which was with Needham, had to be postponed. Then the boys beat Norwood, 6-3. In completing their schedule, the team hopes to bring to Walpole the trophy which has been won and then lost by Walpole golf teams in the space of two years.

John Howard, Walter Muldoon, and Tom Noonan are the graduating Seniors. This will leave Meomartino, a Junior; Martin and Burke, Sophomores; and Freshman Boulter to play on next year's team. Best of luck to these boys in their coming season.

Not present when picture was taken: Richard Sullivan, Danny Rubini, Robert Hood.

Track . . .

This year the track team has three meets scheduled and several others are possible if transportation can be arranged.

May 6	Dedham
May 14	Dean
May 17	Norwood

Mr. Graney is the new coach, succeeding Mr. Gowing who is now coaching at Tabor Academy. Track is rather difficult sport in the sense that a good deal of individual training and practice is required. The boys that are able to go through preliminary training are the ones that make up a good track team.

There are several outstanding runners on the team who should help bring victory home to Walpole High. George Sullivan, our Mass. State Class B Champion, should win easily in the shotput. Fred Arthur is high man in both the running broad and high jump. Seniors "Woody" Sullivan and "Kenny" King, with their years of experience, are capable of more than holding their own in the mile and quarter mile respectively, while Phil Pearson, a sophomore, looks very good in the dashes.

Coach Graney has entered several boys in the Mass. State Outdoor Championship Meet, to be held in the latter part of May. We should make a good showing even against the best schoolboys in the State.

George Sullivan, Richard Sullivan, Chester Gay, Lawrence Rockwood, Robert Hood, and Kenneth King will graduate this year.

Tennis . . .

Our tennis coach, Mr. Murphy, held a meeting of all the candidates for the team about the middle of April. Quite a large number of boys were present.

Due to the lack of proper transportation, a schedule has not yet been arranged. A series of inter-class games, however, should provide good competition and fun for the whole team. The Seniors on this year's team are LeRoy Spear, Bob Fisher, Charles Quimby, and Ken King. The other members are Al Boragine and Fred Jamieson.

We hope that in the future our tennis teams will be playing under more favorable conditions so they will have the opportunity to arrange a full schedule and earn a good reputation for Walpole High School.

Honorary Society . . .

The Epsilon Pi Epsilon or Honorary Society is the only organization of its kind in our high school. The Greek words Epsilon mean good moral character, a high grade of scholarship, and service to the school. The necessary requirements for membership follow this motto. Seven credits are necessary for membership; these credits may be obtained from scholastic standing and extra-curricular activities. A grade of 75% or higher is required of all members.

The officers this year are: President, George Sullivan; Vice Presidents, Constance Pratt and Barbara Duquette; Secretary, Kay Pruell; and Treasurer, Jean Davis. Miss Darmedy is our advisor and much credit is due to her for all her fine work and cooperation.

Sportsmanship Brotherhood . . .

The Sportsmanship Brotherhood is an organization established to promote good feeling and good sportsmanship throughout the high school. The aim of the organization is to follow the code of Sportsmanship which is:

Keep the rules.
Keep faith with your comrades.
Keep your temper.
Keep a stout heart in defeat.
Keep your pride under in victory.
Keep a sound soul, a clean mind, and a healthy body.
Play the game.

Those pupils who, in the opinion of the Faculty and the Coaches, abide by this code, become members of the Brotherhood.

Hill Quill Staff . . .

"The Hill Quill" has afforded us many pleasant memories of our four years in Walpole High School. The Staff has done a very thorough and creditable work in publishing this magazine every season, and the student body has supported it. Everyone contributes to the "Hill Quill", and it is just this help and cooperation from the pupils that makes it such a success.

Senior Play . . .

On November 20, 1942, the Senior Class presented its annual play. This year it was "Double or Nothing." The story was written by Glenn Hughes.

We were very fortunate in having many pupils with stage experience. They helped very much to make the play a success. "Double or Nothing" was a short comedy of a small town college; the plot was centered around the ever important Junior Prom, to which some of the boys had invited a movie star.

Bob Hood as Ted Hoyt, and "Red" Muldoon as Jimmie Lee, had the male leads; they played their parts to perfection. Nancy Davenport had the feminine lead and excelled in her part. Not to be outdone, however, were Mary Corbett as Ethel Green; Ann Frink as Carol Muir; and Robert Tschirch as Homer Green.

The remaining members of the cast did their parts equally as well; they were: Jeanne Frazer, Connie Pratt, Margaret Burke, David Smith, Edward Fitzgibbons, LeRoy Spear and Dane Nicolle.

Much credit is due to Miss Maxfield and Miss Jones who helped to train the group for so many weeks.

Seniors not present when picture was taken: Mary Becker, Marguerite Connolly, Iris Cooper, Barbra Gray, Edna Johnson, Isobel Pinkham, Eleanor Willis, Edward Fitzgibbons, Thomas Noonan, Allen Shaw.

Glee Club . . .

One of the finest organizations of our school is the GLEE CLUB, which, during the course of the school year, presents several admirable performances. The presentation of the annual Gilbert and Sullivan operetta is one of its main events of the year. It is greatly anticipated and praised by the students and the townsfolks of Walpole. Under the capable direction of Mr. Morse, the Glee Club has attained a high standard as a choral group. "Patience," Pinafore," "Pirates of Penzance," and the 1943 review of Gilbert and Sullivan's two short operettas, "Cox and Box," and "Trial by Jury," are th operettas in which the class of '43 has participated.

Mary Becker, President; Thomas Noonan, Vice-President and Robert Burke, Secretary-Treasurer, are the officers this year.

Dance Orchestra . . .

Members of the Dance Band have had many pleasant times. Most of the boys have played since their Sophomore year. The Band has played for special shows, assemblies, concerts, and the school dancing. It has always provided the latest songs, and it possesses a large library of standard and stock arrangements.

The success and fine work of the band is due in a large degree to Mr. Kravitz who has devoted much time and interest to it. He has succeeded in making this organization one of the best in the school. The knowledge and experience that the members have obtained will be of lasting value to them.

The 1943 Band had eleven members. The six Senior members were:

Ralph Williams, Dane Nicolle, Kenneth King—saxes; Bob Hood, trumpet; LeRoy Spear, trombone; John Howard, piano. The underclass members were: Fred Pierce, James Hanna, William Hale, Richard Davis, and Harold Hayes.

The Walpole High School Band has kept the Hilltop teams in the best of spirits. It played at the Boston Arena for hockey games and at East Walpole for the football games. Memorial Day, Firemen's Sunday, and at Dedication Exercises the Band displayed its talent and support. Mr. Kravitz made possible the excellent work of this organization.

The following Seniors were members of the band:

Orchestra . . .

The High School Orchestra was conducted by Mr. Morse until this year when the responsibility of leadership was assumed by Mr. Kravitz. As in the past, the orchestra played for the Senior Play and the annual operetta. It provided entertainment for the Walpole Woman's Club and the Mothers' Club. The annual concert was given as usual.

As the Class of 1943 leaves Walpole High School, it takes the following orchestra members: Constance Pratt, Jean Davis, Karl Dorrwachter, Judith Swift, Robert Hood, David Smith, LeRoy Spear, and Eleanor Peebles.

Class Will

We, the Class of 1943, priding ourselves upon the fact that we are possessed with superior intellectuality, (we hope); that we have been exposed to more knowledge than any other class through experience and years; that we do have a sense of humor, and having been found sound of body and mind, (though some may doubt it for reasons best known to ourselves) do on this seventeenth day of June present our last will and testament:

To the Classes of '44, '45, '46 we leave the hope that they may be graduated into a peaceful world. To them we also leave the fine spirit and abilities of our faculty.

We men of the Library being masters of all that is contained therein, do here and now leave our said domain to any group of Junior boys who are found eligible.

Constance Ciccolini leaves the "Hill Quill" to Lillian Heaver.

We leave all dark corners of dear old Walpole High to anyone who can devise a method of putting them into use.

Peggy Burke hands her commendable habit of promptness to her brother, Bob.

Bob Hood passes down the U. S. Coast Guard Academy to Bob Gardner.

Millie Markevich leaves her list of service-men correspondents to all lovelorn, and lonesome Junior girls.

Charles Quimby and Robert Tschirch hope to leave . . . . for Jail. (Correction: the boys tell me its YALE.)

Class Prophecy

YEAR: 1963
PLACE: Lord knows where.
SCENE: Swami "Red" Muldoon's tent on a fairground. Muldoon is sitting in front of his crystal ball stacking the cards for his next seance. "Red" has gained fame in the fortune-telling world and, as he sits in careless reverie, a tall distinguished looking gentleman staggers —— er —— walks into his tent. As the man wipes the soot from his face "Red" sees that it is his old classmate of yesteryear, Robert Hood. Let's listen to their conversation as these two mental wizards reminisce.

"Red": Good evening Sir, would you like your fortune told? Say, if it isn't my old friend Bob Hood. What are you doing here?

Bob: Well, Red Muldoon! You are just the man I wanted to see. Our classmates have been flung to the four corners of the world and I understand you are a fortune-teller, so let's see what they are doing.

"Red": As I gaze into the crystal ball the first persons I see are: Darrell Albee and Edwin Bodge. They are in the Navy. After twenty years they are still scrubbing the decks with a tooth brush. Jesse Meyer is in the Merchant Marines. I understand he is occupied in the same capacity.

Say Bob, do you remember that girl that used to work in the corner fruit store? Well, Angelina Baldassari is still working there and is still waving at the boys as they go by.

Some of her best customers are Richard Benson, Edward Garneau and Dane Nicolle who are still putting time in at Morse Lumber Yard. It sure has been a long time.

Bob: Say, wait a minute, I get the knack of this. Let me try it?

Yes sir, here is Muriel Boulter, Barbara Duquette, Eleanor Peebles, and Elinor Erker. Guess what they are doing? They have opened a Beauty Salon and specialize in mud packs. On them, it looks good. They also have Barbara Ellison working for them as back scratcher for fat women.

"Red": And say, speaking of enterprises; Edward Brooks is still part-time worker at the First National. There's a rumor that he's going to marry the boss' daughter and get the store.

"Red": Johanson, Johnson and Johnson have opened a restaurant and ran Howard Johnson out of business.

Bob: Speaking of miracles, Peter Betro is now a professor in mathematics at Walpole High.

And remember the two brilliant students we had in our physics class?

"Red": You mean Bob Tschirch and Bob Fisher?

Bob: Yes, those two mad physicists have finally concluded after twenty long years of research, that water boils at 212°F.

"Red": Twenty years is a long time but we still find Priscilla Angus an ardent admirer of "Big" George Sullivan.

Incidentally, George is No. 1 box office attraction of the Hungry Hearts Studio, Inc. He plays Victor M. Butler in the new production "Gone With A Sneeze" opposite "Mary Scarlett O'Corbett."

Bob: Look at the veterans of the Second World War. Yes, here is Fred Harrison's Harem in Abadaba, North Africa. His best customers are Tommy Noonan and Lawrence Rockwood.

"Red": Yes, and right near that locality is stationed Mary Penza and her able bodied assistant, Connie Ciccolini, who are just recovering from their recent bankruptcy.

But look, we seem to be getting into something new. Here we have Philomena Clerici and Thelma Tomasso opening tomorrow night at the Boston Opera House after twenty years of training. In the leading role we find Isobel Pinkham, Edith Pitt and Pauline Procaccini.

Bob: Here we have a traveler. Mary Lewis is now next door to Yale University and Johnny Gray is her reason.

Ah, here is another. Robert Corey, who moved to California, started an orange ranch. The two main seeds of the outfit are Bob Dowd and George Neault his ex-classmates.

"Red": Well, here is our old friend Ralph Bassey. He is now president of the Chesterfield Tobacco Co. He doesn't have to bum any more butts.

But, look and see some of the enterprises that have bloomed from our class. Betty Barrows, the last customer of Mary Dalton and Norma Paccioretti's Turkish Bath, Inc., reports the results as satisfactory. Try it girls, it really works.

Bob: That sounds like success, and speaking of success, I hear Ruth Boulter is now on the Assembly line at Boulter's Nut and Bolt Co. Do'in nuttin'. And here is another, that great Allan Shaw is sole owner of Schrieter's Motor Mart, Special (Beer and Ale) Wine, Women and Song.

"Red": Here we are in the sports world. Anna Kane and Kay Pruell coaching the Harvard University field hockey team. Back in 1943 when men were scarce they made Harvard co-ed.

"Red": Yes, and here is Nat Kemp a physical instructor at Wrentham State School. Her star pupil is Andrew Saboites. He excells in jump-ropeing.

Bob: Say, remember "Big" Butch Songin? Well, he and his fellow followers, namely, Edmund Walukevich, Ralph Williams, and Hugh McComb have finally gained fame in the sports world by selling peanuts at all sports events at the Boston Garden.

"Red": Oh boy, here's music, let's get in the rhythm section. But wait, here's something better. Karl Dorrwachter never liked swing. Now he is playing piano with his own band, "Karl and his Quacksters."

And say, remember LeRoy Spear that used to live on my street and serenade us with his trombone? Well now he is advancing in the music world, latest reports have it that he is playing 5th trombone in Pottsville Symphony. Where is Pottsville? I don't know, but I always knew he would go far in music. The farther the better.

Bob: Remember the swell times we used to have in our swing sessions? And how Kenny King was our best sax? Well, he is now 5th sax with Johnny Podges.

You know we have a few journalists in our midst now. Here is Charlie Quimby and John Howard co-editors of the Walpole Gazette, the leading paper in Walpole. And the most prominent column is the Lovelorn Column. This is written by Alice and Chet Gay. They sure have the experience behind them.

"Red": William Connors is still in the Navy. It must run in the family because William is still commanding his father on the same ship.

Here is something else in the sports world. Mary Becker is the Women's National Golf Champion and is president of Walpole Country Club.

Class Prophecy Cont.

Bob: Jean Platt used to go to the movies frequently and during the feature she used to eat dog biscuits. One night Woody and Casey Sullivan took her to see Evelyn Readel playing in "The Re-birth of a Nation." They could not stand the noise Jean made so they at once set to work to invent a noiseless biscuit. Two weeks later they emerged from the smoke with a Hasansmockers patented biscuit, guaranteed no mess, no noise.

"Red": Speaking of eating. Connie Pratt has her own Candy Store. She has Judy Swift working for her. Connie makes the candy and Judy eats it.

Ah, something new has been added. Here is Mildred Markevich the life guard at East Walpole swimming pool. Her assistant is Mary Marino.

Bob: Peggy Taylor was looking for something new so she opened a gymnasium for women. You know, reducing exercises. She is doing very nicely.

And here is something odd, Phyllis Stone, Dot Leveroni, Marion Lindsay and Dorothy Jarvis have opened a roller skating rink to satisfy those who long for that sport and can't get enough of it.

"Red": Marjorie Lyon and Ruth O'Brien are still carrying on their keen competition, now they are wondering who will be the next one to go out with Bob Frink.

Say listen to this, Virginia Burns, Dottie Campana, and Pat Haste are now stenographers and paper peddlers on the staff of the "Walpole Gazette." Their life long ambition filled.

Bob: Marguerite Connolly, proprietor of the Connolly Taxi and Ambulance Co. has added two new associates. Namely Agnes Marinelli and Elinor Martin. Big business!

Ah, some more proprietresses, Ella Campagna and Mary Cekovich are still running the Mammoth Cafeteria in the heart of South Walpole. They specialize in six ways to get slim.

"Red": Oh look, Bob, wouldn't you know. Alice Ellis is driving a bulldozzer for Joe Lorusso. Like all women she has finally moved in.

Peggy Burke is chief, cook and bottle washer with the Fitzgibbons Airlines, Inc. Eddie is owner, co-pilot, mechanic, dispatcher, radio man, ticket collector, and janitor.

Bob: Red, will you look at this, Joe Virchow and Julius Candela have their own rifle range. Their ex-history teacher used to set up pigeons for them. One happy day Joe's gun slipped and now they set up the ex-history teacher.

Ha, Ha, look at this. Harry Eisner after twenty years with A & P, now has his own company selling concentrated foods to concentration camps.

"Red": Eleanor Tichyno and Virginia Smith after all their experience at Whitman's have opened a nursery. (For Men).

Speaking of men, Ann Frink has finally decided to share her dates with other girls. She has collaborated with Esther Larkin and Ruth Paine and opened a date bureau. I hope Ann still has her various college and Aggie boys in mind.

Bob: Ruth McGlone and Barbara White are still sharing the same traffic post as they did in Walpole High. This post is a hospital ward.

Doris Toohy, Ruth Tepstra, and Elinor Willis have opened a dress shop. Their new creation is the new gownless evening straps.

"Red": Ah, the Navy. Barbara Jones still turns her glass-eye seaward in search of her long lost lover Philip Stone.

And again the Navy blooms, now we see Harriette Kenison's happy smile and proud at that, because her Philip has just been advanced. Such Luck.

Bob: My, we are traveling, here we are in North Carolina. Say, we should see Nancy Davenport and Iris Cooper. Yes, here they are and say, what are they doing? Why it looks like they have followed up their World War Canteen to a fancy little eating place. I hope this interest in food has done something for them. They used to be a pint of peanuts.

Speaking of fanciness, Marie LaCorti, Thelma Lang and Eileen Lang are still entertaining the men. This is in a circus act. Two clowns and a gypsy.

"Red": Christina Lawrence and Preston Legge are married and have a few little Legge's.

Bob: Matthew Gelso that rug cutter of all times now has his own band and plays for all the little rug cutters at Frank Daly's Meadow-Brook.

And here is Nilda Guisti, hostess and bouncer at the Daly Meadow-Brook.

"Red": Oh, Bob, this is killing me. Listen, Sylvia Howland won a beauty contest at Mattapoisett Beach. Probably because those three beauty experts Dan Rubini, Tommy Travers and Everett Rockwood were judges. It's lucky they had on their colored glasses.

And listen to this, Pauline Hrenchuck is still writing to Mr. Anthony for help in her love affairs. Poor girl, she takes it so seriously.

Bob: "The Best Tunes of All Move to Carnegie Hall" and with them went Jean Davis and her piano.

Jane Day is still lifting weights with Barmun and Bailey Circus. This must be the same one that the other girls were in.

"Red": Here is Ellen Dray still trying to succeed in the Abadaba State Hospital.

And after twenty years Nat Fabricotti is still hanging out the lantern so Tony can find his way home nights. It has been a long time.

Bob: Harris Fish is still trying to make his gasoline buggy go on kerosene and moth balls.

Jeanne Frazer is Dean of Women at Abadaba University now, no kidding.

"Red": Ah, the light in my crystal ball is fading. But wait, here is another flicker. I see Ruth Canning, Barbara Gray, and Virginia Whittier on a Hollywood boulevard. That must be the result of the beauty contest they all competed in, down in Abadaba University.

And as the last flame is dying out here is Tony Farinacci and Emilio Silvi just finishing landscaping their new project, A High School!

"Red": Well, Bob, I guess that's it.

Bob: We covered about everyone I think, wasn't that fun? Now we know just about what everyone is doing.

"Red": Well, I guess it is just about time to close the shop. What are you doing now?

Bob: Why, haven't you heard, I'm Head Master back in Walpole High. My, have things changd. Yes, school is in session from 11:00 A. M. to 2:00 P. M. And we have afternoon tea at 4:00. And an hour for lunch period. But say, what else do you do?

"Red": That doesn't sound like the Walpole High that I went to. Oh, I'm not doing much of anything. You know this is just my hobby, I'm president of a firm on Wall Street.

Bob: That is certainly something I never expected. Well, it is getting late so let's say goodbye and I'll see you again soon.

"Red": You sure will — Bye!

1943 Class Song

With all our work well done,
For us our time has come
From Walpole High to part;
We have a heavy heart.
Now as we sing this song,
Our way has seemed quite long,
With work and happy days
We venture on our ways.

To you, Dear Walpole High
This class now bids good-bye;
Our memories of you
Will help bring vict'ry through.
That peace will always live,
We'll fight! We'll work! We'll give!
And to the Blue and White,
Bring honor, justice, right.

So as we say adieu,
Walpole High; our tribute is to you,
And with our hearts held high,
Forty-three bids you good-bye.

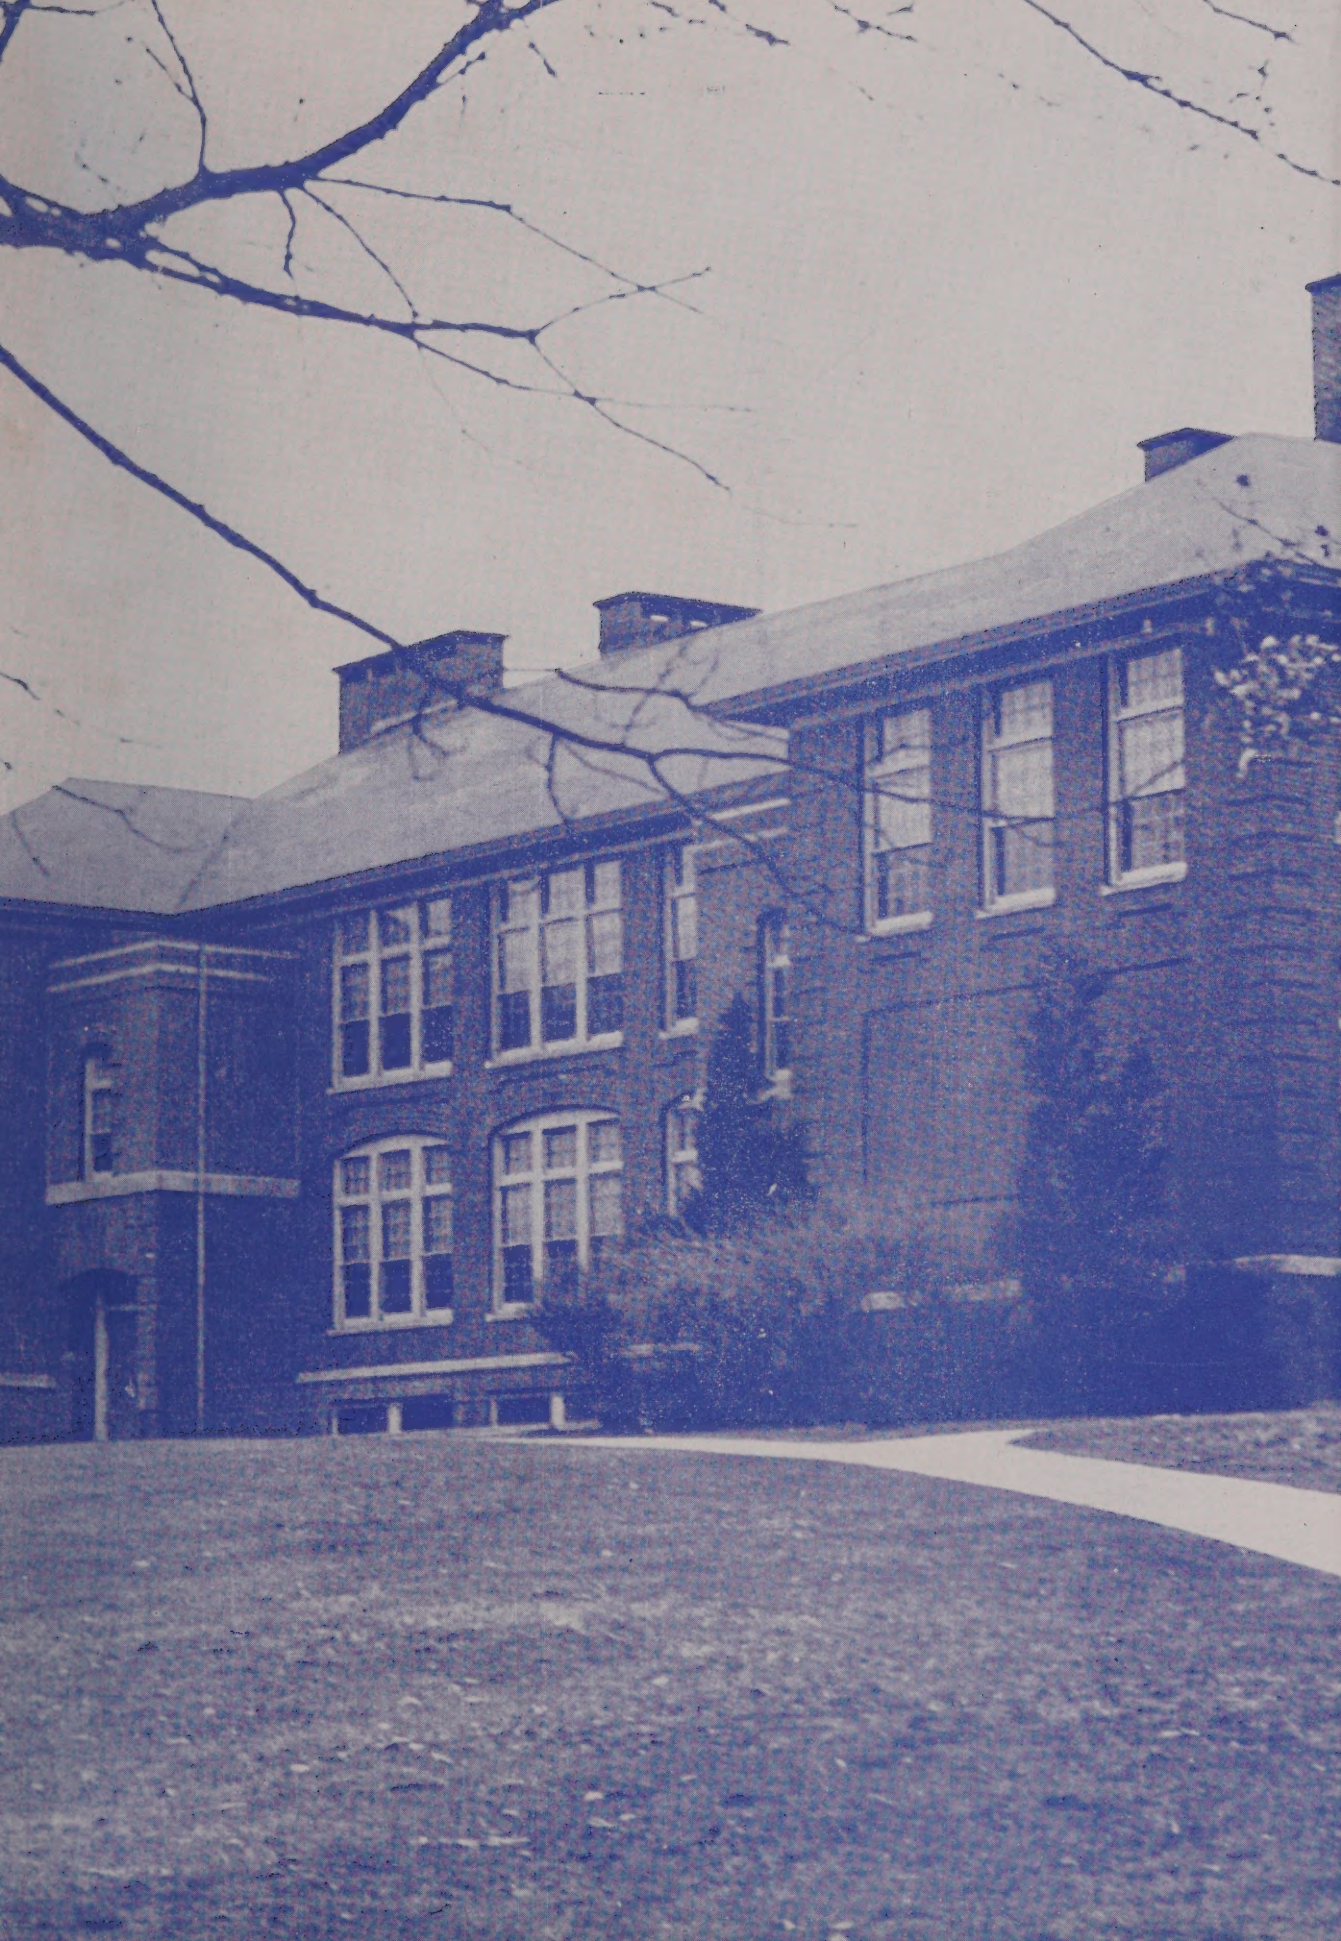
EDITORIAL COMMENT

THE TOPPER. The 1943 edition of the Walpole High School Year Book presented to every gradnate at the exercises held Friday, June 18, was for the second year in succession a very creditable home-product. This 8 x 11 volume so beautifully bound in royal blue, of attractive design, realistically bespeaks the distinctive character and purpose of this productive, dynamic class so truly typical of American youth in peace and war.

Within its pages we find pictures and stories that present and preserve exploits of individual and group activities, in the classroom, on the campus, the arena of athletics, the warfront at home and abroad. Complete statistics and achievement awards in scholastic and kindred activities, combine with humor and a complete gallery of individual student and faculty photographs. A special group of former classmates now in the armed services—plus a fitting memorial to the late Horace Hayward—"Missing at Sea"—enrich its pages with accomplishment and purpose.

This historic 1943 edition was dedicated to Mr. Arnold Grover, manual arts instructor at the school for 28 years.

We extend congratulations to John Howard, editor-in-chief, his able aid Barbara Duquette, and efficient staff.

In congratulating the graduating class we say—


"Face the new day undismayed,
Be afraid to be afraid."
